Historical Society Winner of National Recognition Plaque

The 1951 Award of Merit by the American Association for State and Local History has been given to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society according to a letter received by Dr. L. F. Sheffy, secretary, from Dr. H. Bailey Carroll, secretary of the Texas State Historical Society. Dr. Carroll was at one time a member of the college faculty and was closely connected with the development of the Society and the Museum. Dr. Floyd Shoemaker, secretary of the Missouri State Historical Society and a member of the committee on awards, made a report to the American Association, that he had personal knowledge that "the Panhandle-Plains Society is the finest regional historical group in America."

Another Hail Storm Swept South of City

Adjustment of hail insurance will largely be completed by the end of this week, states insurance agents who have had their hands full of claims due to the heavy hail storm which hit Canyon two weeks ago Monday evening.

Practically every house in Canyon suffered damage from the storm, when hail stones as large as golf balls pounded roofs and other property for about 15 minutes.

This hail covered the largest territory that has ever been hit in Randall county, according to records which have been kept by pioneers. The storm entered Randall county near Bushland and went entirely across the county, leaving near Way-side. It is reported that the storm covered a swath of the county about 40 miles long and ranging to about six miles wide, about 250 sections were hit by this hail.

The heaviest hail fell in the Canyon area, where the largest damage is reported. In this area there were only a few fields of good wheat. However, farm homes and buildings were hard hit in the path of the hail storm.

Another rain and hail storm hit Randall county Thursday evening. The hail was light in Canyon, but to the west and south of Canyon the damage was as great as in the storm which hit Canyon a week earlier. At Umbarger and Ralph the storm damaged every building in its path. During this storm rain fell in Canyon amounting to .30 of an inch. Wheat was entirely wiped out in the path of this storm, which seems to have adjoined the previous hail to the south of the path of the June 12th hail.

Damage done in this storm centered around Umbarger and Ralph and farm homes and crops in this area were hit by this sweep of hail.

The rain Sunday night was much heavier to the south and west of Canyon, with only .15 of an inch falling here. High wind and lightning accompanied this rain. Considerable damage was done in the Umbarger area in both the Thursday evening and Sunday night storms when light twisters swooped down to overturn small buildings in the path of the blow.

William Ivan Wester, 75, died Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Neblett Hospital where he had been under medical treatment for 10 days. Mr. Wester had lived in Randall county since 1926, engaging in farming until recent poor health caused him to retire from this business.

Mr. Wester was a member of the Methodist Church. The funeral service was held Friday morning at 10 o'clock, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Herschel L. Thurston. The body was shipped to the old family home at Pine Ridge, Missouri, for burial on June 24.

A funeral service was held in Missouri at the Baptist Church on Sunday. All members of the immediate family attended the service. Survivors are the widow, Mrs. Myrtle Wester of Canyon; three sons, Ivey Wester of Carlsbad, N. M., Randall Wester of Amarillo, Jack Wester of Carlsbad, N. M.; one daughter, Mrs. Louise Crowder of Clovis, N. M.; four grandchildren.

Wm. A. Miller Jr. Wins Commission Second Lieutenant

William A. "Bill" Miller, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. "Gus" Miller, was among 224 graduates of the USAF Officer Candidate School to win commissions as second lieutenants June 22 in the ceremonies at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

Diplomas were presented the members of the class, 51-B, by Brig. Gen. Wycliffe E. Steele, acting OCS commandant and commander of The Gateway to the Air Force base. The graduation address was delivered by Gen. Walter Krueger, USA, retired World War II commanding general of the Sixth Army.

The class included the largest number of Women in the Air Force to complete the intensive OCS six months course of training at Lackland. Thirty-three members were women, reflecting a beginning of the nationwide buildup of the WAF.

All of the new second lieutenants will commence a tour of extended duty following a short period of leave effective immediately after graduation. Some of the class will be assigned to advanced technical training within the Air Training Command, while others will enter on administrative duty at Air Force bases throughout the country.

County Board Has Ended Equalization

The Commissioners Court ended its work Monday as a board of equalization. The court has mailed notices of tax changes to those who have been adjusted as to property values. The court will hear complaints as to taxable values on July 16.

Misses Ila Lewis and Wilma Watkins of Canyon spent last week-end with Miss Helen Taylor in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Taylor of Friona.

Dr. Shoemaker had visited the museum upon invitation of David M. Warren of Panhandle, former president of the Society. While in the Panhandle Dr. Shoemaker had been the principal speaker at a barbecue given by the Borger Chamber of Commerce. During his visit here and since that time, Dr. Shoemaker has been in close contact with the growth and development of the Society and the work of the Museum in gathering and preserving historical data which is related to this area of the Southwest.

The certificate of award will be sent soon to Dr. Sheffy who will place this certificate on display in the museum in order that visitors may see the high rank which has been given to this regional institution.

J. Evetts Haley of Canyon is president of the Society and work on the completion of the second unit of the Museum is underway at the present time. The great art exhibit which was given to the Museum by the late Judge James D. Hamlin of Farwell cannot be displayed until the third floor of this unit has been completed, according to C. Boone McClure, curator of the Museum.

Tidesland Bill Taken Up By Judiciary Group

According to a telegram received Tuesday afternoon by The News from Congressman Walter Rogers, work started Wednesday morning in hearing the tidesland bill before the full judiciary committee. The bill seeks to restore title to the offshore oil to Texas.

It is freely predicted by the Texas delegation that Congress will carry out its pledge to grant title to this oil field to Texas, but President Truman will veto the measure. There is some doubt about the ability of Congress to pass the measure over a veto.

P. H. Baber's Car Badly Damaged Hit From the Rear

P. H. Baber, county commissioner, was coming from Amarillo Thursday morning when a car smashed into the rear of his car doing about $1,000 damage. A highway engineer was riding with Mr. Baber, and they were on their way to inspect the damage done by the recent floods at the Six Mile Crossing. Fortunately neither man was injured, but was badly shaken up by the impact of the cars.

The car which rammed the Baber car from the rear was driven by a man from Oklahoma, who paid a fine for reckless driving. He stated that he was watching a Santa Fe train three miles away and did not see the Baber car.

Division Heads Of College Are Named by Pres.

President James P. Cornette of West Texas State has announced the appointment of four division heads of the college who's job it will be to better correlate the faculty and students working within these divisions.

The division heads are: Dr. A. K. Knott, division of humanities comprising the art, Bible, English, modern languages, music and speech departments.

Dr. R. C. Busted, division of sciences, comprising the biology, chemistry, geology, mathematics and physics departments.

Dr. L. F. Sheffy, division of social science, comprising the history, geography, sociology, government and economics departments.

Dr. J. B. Roberts, division of the profession and vocational group, comprising the agriculture, school of business, education, home economics, industrial arts, journalism and vocational training departments.

The new plan was developed by a committee of 13 faculty members appointed by Dr. Cornette.

The plan adopted at West Texas State is similar to those of other colleges which have developed from the study of the Harvard Report, "General Education in Free Society."

Under the plan, colleges will build up a curriculum in which the students will spread their studies over the three major fields, rather than concentrating in one field.

Lightning Hit Highline to Darken Canyon

The lighting system of Canyon was out of commission for one hour Sunday night when a bolt of lightning hit the high line east of Canyon.

It did not take long to repair the damage after the seat of the trouble was located.

Lightning has been the source of much trouble this year, as the local system has been hit in practically every storm which has come to this section.

There were few interruptions last year, but plenty of them during this spring and early summer.

Treasure Hunt Draws a Huge Crowd Searchers

The third annual Treasure Hunt at the Palo Duro State Park has started with a tremendous success for the opening days, states John L. McCarty, concessionaire.

More than 200 prize coins were brought to the Lodge to claim valuable prizes during the first two days. In addition to these coins, many of the Peruvian and Mexican coins, together with the American pennies were picked up by the thousands of people who jammed the Park. Each of the numbered coins secured for the finder a valuable prize. Many of the old 1949 coins found by the swarms of people who were in the Palo Duro during the day.

Attendance at the Park was the largest for this year, with 3800 admissions being paid at the gate. Attendance this week will exceed that of last week. There are still 2,000 number coins to be found, all of which will bring valuable prizes to the finders. The Treasure Hunt will continue until September 3.

Mr. and Mrs. McCarty and Wilbur left Tuesday for Colorado Springs to attend the annual convention of Highway 87. Colored pictures of the Palo Duro will be shown Thursday.

Many of the German students who visited the Palo Duro Sunday on their way home had recently visited the Grand Canyon and were amazed at the beauty of the Palo Duro. It is much more colorful than the Grand Canyon, according to their estimation.

No Definite Word On Proposed Test Well in County

Rumors have been flying around the past few days that another test well for oil will be drilled in Randall county.

It is a well known fact that two blocks were being formed for such tests. However, nothing definite has been developed as to the proposed tests and it is not yet known when work might get underway for such a test.

Several test wells have been sunk during the past years in Randall county. None are thought to have gone as deep as the new test proposes, 8500 feet.

Texas Press Association Has Talkfest of Newspaper Aches

The Newsman attended the 72nd Annual Convention of the Texas Press Association held in Dallas last week-end.

The annual convention is getting to be quite an event in the lives of weekly and small daily newspaper publishers of Texas. The convention program is always tops, with the big name speakers from the newspaper field throughout the nation taking part on the program. While these speakers always bring a message of progress from various states, personally we would prefer to hear Texas speakers tell of their successes or their troubles, and to get down to earth in their suggestions.

At a clinic held Saturday afternoon certain weekly publishers jumped on the annual contests which are held for competition for ribbons, plaques and cups. The theme of the opposition was that the contests were too one-sided, especially as to editorials, which must be written on local subjects rather than on state-wide or national issues. The Newsman did not participate in these objections, having won first place in the class to which The Canyon News was placed last year, and therefore being ineligible for participation this year.

Our old friend, Ben Ezzell of The Canadian Record stepped right up and won first place rather than this paper in the 1951 contests. We extend hearty congratulations to Ben and his good weekly newspaper. Let it be remembered that Ben Ezzell is a "graduate" of The Canyon News by securing his early newspaper training in this plant.

The folks down in big D put on a show for the visitors. Sometimes we are prone to think that the big cities are overlooking the country folks. This is not true so far as Dallas is concerned. The two big city newspapers acted like we were long lost brothers, and threw out the red carpet.

Incidentally a group of Panhandle publishers skipped the talk of Governor Allan Shivers Saturday morning to make a hurried trip through the new six million dollar Dallas Morning News plant. We were amazed and thoroughly impressed with everything that we saw. Just wish that we could produce such a great newspaper in the country field as the Dallas News is in the daily field. We found that the same problems confront the publishers in Canyon, which confront the publishers in every other small town. These problems are better and faster presses; a better classified department of the paper; better and more comics; the use of more local pictures; better and quicker news coverage.

When we asked Olin Hinkle where we could find a trained newspaper woman on this paper, his reply was, "Go back home and train one. We have none to recommend."

The trouble, as he points out, is that of the women graduates down at the University of Texas School of Journalism, all of the best qualified are getting married to men in service, and they will be following their new husbands all over the country.

(We still need that trained newspaper woman.)

Military Men Are Strong in Defense of MacArthur's Stand

In last week's issue the Newsman discussed the visit of General MacArthur to Texas. We feared that our observations might be a little stale by the time this paper was printed. That is the trouble of not having a duplex press which prints eight pages at a time in nothing flat. (We have been casting longing eyes in the direction of a duplex, although every publisher tells us to stay off these babies as the sacrifice of a good print would be too much.)

Frankly no one knows why MacArthur came to Texas. In spite of what the big town boys say about the crowds, the General drew big crowds, so far as this country boy was concerned.

We were impressed by one observation: Coming home we talked with an army colonel who is stationed in Fort Worth. He is a professional soldier and had served with General MacArthur.

We asked him what he thought of the General. His reply was frank and unhesitating.

MacArthur is a highly capable, fearless military man, who has devoted much of his time to the study of economic problems of the nation. His speeches have been carefully prepared, and expresses his thoughts on public questions. As a military leader, he recognizes the political powers over him. He may disagree with the political leaders, but will try to carry out their bidding, if the directives are sufficiently clear.

This military man stated that directives are often so ambiguous as they come out of Washington that no officer knows what his duties will be and therefore he has to rely on his own judgment. That was what MacArthur was doing in Japan, when both the President and the Pentagon were at a loss to give definite and detailed instructions. The military does not blame MacArthur for not having followed instructions, such as they were. Maybe he was right, and maybe he was wrong. No one knows the answer.

We feel that this answer of the army colonel was a pretty good answer to the prevailing problems which confront the nation.

The present generation, we are happy to report, is likely to be an improvement on their predecessors.

If you want to decide anything rightly, consider the long range profit along with the short range gain.

Capital, in the form of cash, in this day of income taxation, is not as easy to acquire as it used to be.

There may be nothing new under the sun but the present generation is seeing it for the first time.

White Collared Workers May Be Focal Point of New Revolt

Just before we left for Dallas we had a talk with a business leader of Canyon who remarked that he was paying as high wages as his business justified but that he was caught in a predicament. Wages were frozen, and prices were frozen, yet the cost of living has advanced. This man remarked that he did not understand how some of his employees were living on the wages that they were able to make, considering the heavy demands on their funds by this complicated age.

Down at Dallas we heard Dr. Humphreys Lee, president of SMU, who talked on the new dangers confronting the United States. These dangers were not from some foreign invasion, although we must prepare for defense, but the danger came from within—from the white collared class of secretaries, school teachers, office workers, even preachers, who are feeling the squeeze of inflation and there is nothing that can be done for them under government regulations.

Dr. Lee suggested that there was a call for highly qualified leadership of revolt against present day conditions, and this great middle class of our nation could furnish this leadership.

It was reported that government workers in Fort Worth have organized under the leadership of a national labor union. While these workers get better wages than the average run of white collared workers, they have requested Congress for an increase, and this has been pigeon-holed. The national union had taken over, through the payment of dues, and promised to get action.

Dr. Lee was not expressing fear of what may happen, but was simply pointing out the possibilities of what may happen under certain conditions.

We trust that this time and condition will never come about! Blood could be uselessly shed in these United States in a situation over which the average citizen has little or no control.

Costly Experiment When Two Weeklies Increase Publication

When a second newspaper was started at Coleman, the old publication jumped to a daily.

Not to be outdone, the new weekly went to a semi-weekly.

Now both publications have found out just how much money they are losing in their fight for the field, and both have reverted to weekly publications.

Publishing a newspaper costs a whale of a lot of money. When the advertisers and subscribers do not fork over the cash because of increased service, the publication has to carry the load.

No, we have no desire to start a daily in Canyon, although we have the equipment to do so!

Useless Gifts to MacArthur

Each town in Texas in which General MacArthur spoke tried to out-do the other by making wonderful gifts to the General and his family. It was a useless gesture. The MacArthurs have more household goods now than they can possibly use. A fourth automobile was added to the fleet of three which they brought back from Japan.

While the General and his wife and son no doubt appreciated these gifts, the donors could have better served the starving people of India by sending food, in the name of General MacArthur, to those extremely poor people or of furnishing a fund for the people of Japan, where the General is loved and highly respected.

Hero worship is a fine thing when not carried to the extreme.

If anybody has read all the testimony taken by the Senate committee, conducting the MacArthur inquiry, he has learned something even if he doesn't know the answers.

There are a lot of people talking about fighting the Russians and the Chinese, at the same time, with the knowledge that the enemy will have no chance to shoot at them.

Nothing is gained by calling other people "bigots" or in denouncing those who happen not to share your own enthusiasm for a cause or an institution.

It won't be long now before millions of people will be celebrating the Fourth of July with no more than a hazy idea of what is behind it all.

County Judges and Commissioners Are High in Praises

The Texas County Judges and Commissioners this week praised the recently-adjourned Texas Legislature for giving the farm-to-market road program and placing a pipeline tax on natural gas.

County Judge O. F. Dent of Littlefield, President of the Association, and Commissioner L. W. Gardner of Itasca, Vice-President, issued a joint statement expressing the Association's appreciation to "A courageous majority of the Legislature for their accomplishment in behalf of the people of Texas."

The Association listed these accomplishments:

"1. The rural road bloc in the legislature defeated efforts of the administration and the so-called Good Roads Association, which, in our opinion, would have crippled our farm-to-market road program through passage of the Graham bill."

"2. The Colson-Briscoe farm-to-market road program has been retained at the full amount of $5,000,000 a year, despite the open proposal of the administration that it be abolished."

"3. The principle of the gas gathering tax on the pipelines which are taking gas out of Texas has been established, through the acceptance of the tax plan proposed by Rep. Jim Sewell."

"4. The trend toward a general sales tax has been stopped, by the defeat of the administration plan for an increase in the gasoline sales tax, another of the 'creeping sales taxes.'"

"These things have been accomplished by a courageous majority of the legislators, for the people of Texas, despite the opposition of the Governor, simply because the legislators had the courage to take bills away from committees stacked by the Lieutenant Governor and Speaker of the House, and bring them to the floor where democracy could rule," the officials declared.

"We, as officers of the County Judges and Commissioners Association, are grateful to have had a small part in this great victory for the people of Texas which means that for the next two years the State Highway Department will have more money to spend for construction of farm-to-market roads than ever before. It accomplishes all we hoped to do when we were forced to defend the rural roads program from the attack begun on it by the administration-supported Graham Bill, House Bill 226."

WT Students Do Recreation Work

Cecil Massey, Director of Canyon Community Recreation summer Program announced this week that the attendance at the assorted playgrounds in Canyon was very high. According to Massey there are around a hundred children attending the playgrounds for the older children located at the Buffalo Stadium and the Canyon High School. There are around 25 to 30 daily attending the tiny tot playground located at 18th Street and 7th Avenue. Besides the playgrounds there are approximately 45 attending the Childrens Theatre speech class, and about 70 attending daily swimming classes.

The recreation program is closely connected with the practice teaching on the campus this summer. There are a number of students taking their practice teaching by supervising various playground activities. Among them are Mr. Roberson, Mr. Fries, C. E. Parkhill, Betty Dunnes, Jim McCleary, Mrs. Osborn, working with the playgrounds, and Mary Ann Massey, J. T. Thomas, and W. H. Harden, working with the Children's Theatre. Carroll Vaughan, C. L. Brown, and J. B. Williams are working with the swimmers. Beverly Beck is regular supervisor at the tiny tot playground. A. W. Carlson is working with the tennis players.

Canyon's summer playgrounds are being operated with the summer student in mind. Every parent is invited to visit the playgrounds and send their children there where they can be insured safe and supervised recreation.

The College itself is donating many of its facilities, such as Buffalo Stadium, the swimming pool, Burton Gym, and the vocational shop has built playground equipment for the tiny tot's playground. As Director Massey put it, "WT is being most helpful."

Weekly contests will be held during the summer between the two playgrounds for the older children. There will be matches in touch football, basketball, tennis, track, croquet, archery, and various other sports with a certificate being given to the winning playground of each match. At the end of the summer, the playground having the most certificates will be awarded a trophy.

Special events are to be scheduled during the summer, many of which will be held on Saturday. A pet show is being scheduled and possibly a doll show. Nature study trips to various locales of the Panhandle and fishing trips are also on tab.

Hedging Against.. DE-flation

"Lots of folks are still hedging against inflation — but inflation is already here! Yes, sir — prices are high, there's loads of money —and it's worth less!"

"But what goes up must come down — and when prices fall, equities, stocks and real estate will be cheap again. The time to buy equities is when they're cheap — right now, when they are high, I'm putting my money in a FIXED investment — that way, I'll still have it when DE-flation comes!"

"Next to a U. S. Savings Bond, I know of no better fixed investment for the average man than a good bank account. You're salting your cash while you have it — not risking it in speculative equities bought near the peak — and it's as liquid as money in your pocket — which, friend, it certainly IS!"

Beth Hardin - Philip Busted Wed in Memorial Chapel Thurs.

MRS. PHILIP C. BUSTEED

On Thursday afternoon, June 21, at 3 o'clock Memorial Chapel of West Texas State was the scene of the marriage of Miss Beth Hardin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Hardin of Plainview, and Pfc. Philip Busted, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert C. Busted of Canyon.

The bride's uncle, Dr. P. O. Haymes, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Plainview, read the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with greenery and baskets of white asters and white gladioli. Lighted white tapers in candelabra completed the setting.

Mrs. T. L. Wright, organist, played a pre-nuptial prelude and accompanied Mrs. Tom W. King of Lubbock who sang "O Promise Me" and "Through the Years." "Clair de Lune" was played during the ceremony and "Ave Maria" during the prayer after the ceremony.

Escorted to the altar by her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride wore a gown of bluish pink imported chintilly lace over satin. Her sheer off shoulder yoke was fashioned with a satin appliqued bertha. From the fitted bodice with slenderizing point in center front fell the voluminous floor-length skirt. Her shoulder veil of bluish pink illusion was held by a lace Juliet cap with strands of pearls entwined. She wore matching gauntlets and carried a cascade bouquet of white roses atop a white Bible.

Attending her sister as matron of honor, Mrs. E. W. DeView of Los Angeles wore a gown of pink taffeta. The sheer off shoulder yoke was framed with a bertha of lace on a fitted bodice. The full skirt was worn over a hoop. She wore matching long gauntlets and carried a cascade bouquet of white asters.

Bob Busted, brother of the groom was best man. Candelighters were Daniel Otis Hardin, brother of the bride, and Jerry Rowell, both of Plainview. Ushers were Jimmie Owens and Jerrie Inman.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hardin chose a navy crepe dress with white trim and accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of white carnations. The groom's mother wore an aqua crepe dress with a shoulder corsage of pink carnations.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the lounge at Randall Hall. The couple was assisted in receiving by their parents and the matron of honor Mrs. DeView.

The mantle in the lounge was decorated with white gladioli and asters. Baskets of white gladioli flanked the fireplace. The bride's table was laid with a madiera cloth with a white aster centerpiece. The double ring wedding cake was surrounded with sweetheart roses. Candelabra with white tapers lighted the table.

For a wedding trip to Colorado Springs, the bride chose a yellow linen suit with white linen blouse and accessories. The couple will live in Colorado Springs where the groom is stationed at Camp Carson.

The bride is a graduate of Plainview High School and attended West Texas State two years. She was president of the Delta Zeta Chi sorority. The groom is a graduate of Canyon High School and attended West Texas State a year and a half before entering the Air Force.

Wedding guests were present from Milan, Ind., Clarksville, Tenn., Meridian, Lubbock, and Los Angeles.

The President did not clear up the statement of Jonathan Daniels, a former White House Secretary, who said on the steps of the White House offices that Mr. Truman would seek renomination and re-election next year. President Truman is described as more and more inclined to keep the public guessing about his ultimate intentions.

Equalization Board Will Meet Saturday

The Board of Equalization will meet Saturday, June 30, 1951, in the City Hall for an all day meeting. Persons wishing to discuss tax matters are invited to appear before the Board on that day.

British military officials think that high U. S. officials are too optimistic about the prospect that Russia or Communist China will accept truce terms now being offered for a cease-fire in Korea. The British view is that U. S. military is paying too much attention to Chinese losses — which China can bear — and not enough to Russia's interest in keeping the war going. Russians are charging high prices for equipment, putting Chinese Communists deeply in their debt.

Gen. George C. Marshall, Secretary of Defense and long-time rival of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, is being pictured by his friends as highly pleased with the effects of the MacArthur dismissal, which he strongly favored. General Marshall feels that the public mind soon can be turned from Korea, and Asia, back to Europe, where he is convinced it should be centered.

Britain still is dragging her heels on a peace treaty with Japan, despite the fact that President Truman fired General MacArthur as a result, in part, of British pressure. MacArthur had insisted, over British objections, that Japan should be permitted to develop a sizable merchant marine and to develop her textile industry without restraint.

President Truman will be satisfied with a Senate committee report that criticizes him for the method of firing MacArthur while upholding his right to fire the General — a right that was not questioned.

Commanders Praise Front Line Morale Of Troops in Korea

A Pentagon general who toils far into each night to insure that Korean commanders are supplied with equipment and trained troops is finding inspiration these days in a letter he received from a United States Army battalion commander who is leading army troops in battle.

"I've taken off at first light with them," the battalion commander writes, "fought all day and into the night, buttoned up on a mountain peak in two feet of snow, beat off two counterattacks during the night—and when morning came, found them ready to move out. No gripes, no despair—"

"How can you help but love men like that? I've almost decided that United States Army men just don't crack."

The commander said his battalion is well-trained, tough, sound as a dollar, and loves to fight. At the time he wrote, the battalion had been in regimental reserve for five days.

"The men don't like it," he said, "they'd rather be on the move and so would I."

"I've got three rifle companies that are top-notch. There's little to choose between them. In planning an attack, I can toss a coin to determine the company that's going to make the main effort."

"In the past two months, we've experienced almost every type of operation in the book except a river crossing and we're looking forward to that in the near future."

"Of course, the most outstanding thing about this outfit—and it's none of my doing so I can brag about it—is the spirit of the men themselves."

"Whenever I feel low, I get out among them and talk with them—it's the best medicine in the world for the commander who wonders how much further he can push his outfit before it begins to crack."

Determined Traffic Officer Finally Gets Drunken Driver

OSHKOSH, Wis.—Lt. Harry Kripner, traffic officer of Oshkosh, by gosh, is not a man to give up easily. Kripner recently nabbed a weaving motorist, but he had to get his squad car out of a ditch to do it.

As Kripner pulled alongside the weaving car, a third auto hit the squad car. The pursued motorist drove on and Kripner and the other vehicle went into a ditch. The occupant of the third car was injured, so Kripner saw that he was cared for and then radioed for an ambulance.

The officer then backed his own car out of the ditch and caught up with the weaving vehicle, whose driver received a $100 drunken driving fine.

Blind Brothers Successfully Manage Large Family Farm

KAUKAUNA, Wis.—If you hadn't been told, you would hardly guess the truth as you watch the Willms brothers, Henry and Aloysius, go about the work on the farm that has been in the Willms family for 100 years. Even after you know, it is hard to believe that the two brothers, who move so quickly and surely, are both blind.

For almost 30 years Henry and Aloysius have managed the farm and done all the chores. They have daily milked 30 head of cattle and care for a sizeable flock of chickens and several hogs.

"We don't do field work, such as sowing and plowing," Henry explains. "We have good neighbors and they help us out. If they are busy we hire someone to do it. We make our own decisions as to when it is time to plant."

Although the brothers sold much of their stock at a recent auction, they still have "enough to fuss around with" on the farm.

Recreation is not a big problem for the two. Both enjoy trips to town for a chat with neighbors and during bad weather spells they listen to "talking books" supplied by the state.

Three sisters, Alvira, Malenia and Hilaria, live with the brothers, and take care of all paper work connected with management of the farm.

Cluster of Cabs Tips Cop To Illegal Poker Session

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Anyone looking for a taxicab at 2:45 here on a recent morning would have been faced with trouble finding one, providing he was not in one given block.

Patrolman Eugene Buraczewski, although not looking for a cab, discovered eight of them parked in a neat row while walking his beat early in the morning. This would ordinarily not have bothered the patrolman at all, except for the discovery that none of the vehicles had drivers.

Buraczewski felt it his duty to investigate the situation. He noticed that lights were burning in only one nearby residence—on the second floor.

As he neared the room, he overheard voices. "I'll raise." Then, "Two aces win." He returned to an alarm box and called the station for help. One cabbie faced charges of running a gaming house, the others of being patrons.

SHORT STORY

Change Of Pace

By Willard Olvan Persing

"I don't care if you have to buy a sawmill to get that lumber, just see that it gets there today!"

3-Minute Fiction

Mike Clannahan slammed the phone back on its cradle, mumbling to himself about young pups who quit trying as soon as they'd heard 'No' mentioned a time or two.

The slender, black-haired girl, sitting on the corner of his desk, grinned at him. "Pops, if everyone bulled their way through like you do, there'd be quite a crop of cracked heads."

As he looked up at his daughter, Mike's face softened into a smile. "Something on your mind, Cathy?"

"Yes, but I think this job is a little too delicate for your methods." She stared out the window for a moment before continuing.

"James refuses to marry me," she said. "Now, he's decided that it's better if we don't even see each other any more."

"Refuses to marry you?" The windows rattled as Mike came up out of his chair. "Why I'll—"

Cathy's frown put Mike back into his chair. "That's what I mean about your methods, I'd like to have enough of him left to carry me over the threshold."

"Why won't he marry you?"

"Rich girl, poor boy. He says he won't have it appear that he married me for my money."

Mike stared thoughtfully at her. "You really love him, don't you?"

Cathy nodded her head. "All you need," Mike said as he leaned back and stared at the ceiling, "is just a diamond-studded, fourteen-carat miracle."

"That's a thought to cheer a girl's heart," Cathy gave her father a wry glance. "That is, if you have an extra miracle you won't be needing for a few days."

MIKE CLOSED HIS eyes and studied a moment. "I could arrange for a high-salaried job to fall his way."

"Pops, please don't try anything like that. If he found that we had a hand in it, he would probably leave town. Your tactics are about as subtle as those of an old billy goat."

"All right, so I'm not in the habit of pussy-footing around," growled Mike. "What are you going to do?"

"Same as I have been doing. Argue some more and try to wear him down."

"That settles that," Mike stood up and absently walked over to get his hat and coat. "You want me to drop you off at home? I've got to run over to the hospital."

"The hospital?"

"Yes, old Zeke, the fellow who owns the newsstand down on the corner, thinks he's going to die, and I thought some company might cheer him up."

Cathy frowned. "He must be the one who has been giving me some competition. James spends two or three nights a week, playing chess and arguing politics with some old fellow named Zeke."

Mike stopped and stared at Cathy. "Come on," he said hurriedly, "if I don't get a move on, visiting hours will be over before I get there."

The windows were still rattling from Mike's conversation when he slammed the phone back into its cradle and glanced up at the young woman who was struggling to keep the exasperated expression on her face.

"Mike Clannahan, I thought you were asked to keep your strong-arm tactics out of my love affair."

Mike grinned up at her. "What do you mean?"

"You know very well what I mean," Cathy's stern expression broke into a happy laugh. She came around the desk and kissed him on the forehead.

"But I still don't know—"

"Don't play innocent with me. Having Zeke leave everything to James was a stroke of genius. But what I want to know is how you managed to get forty-seven thousand dollars in old bills hidden in Zeke's room."

"Did it work?"

Cathy held her left hand up in front of Mike's face. A diamond on the third finger twinkled merrily at him.

Eye-Dropper Religion

A MAN with an eye-dropper may be respected when he has a small bottle of medicine to be applied in small doses. But it is not proper in the realm of religion. "The mercy of God is an ocean divine, A boundless and fathomless deep;" an eye-dropper is a poor conveyor of such richness and abundance. We are heirs of infinite goodness and grace; the everlasting God seeks to pour into our souls His lavish gifts of grace and goodness. How poor and how unfortunate is that life that will take the Father's bounty only by the eye-dropper method!

BUT isn't that the way too many of us accept our religion? The great Book with its eighty volumes (including the Apocrypha in the Pulpit Bible) lies before us for our reading, our enjoyment and profit. How much time do we take out of the twenty-four hours to dedicate to its reading? The great Father God seeks to talk to us through the varied ministries of the world of beauty, through the noble living of saintly souls, through the rich services of the Church. How faithfully and well do we listen for the divine Voice? The best thoughts of earth's truest citizens have been inscribed in great books and placed near us in the libraries of our towns and cities. How much of our thought has been taken from these fountains of inspiration?

ARE you and I only 'eye-droppers' in the field of education and culture and religion? Are we too easily satisfied with good things which God has offered us in such abundance? Let's live greatly and richly. Why not make the whole world our home, attend our church and be citizens of the kingdom of God?

Tremor Rattles Dishes, People In Canyon and Area Wednesday

Dishes rattled and tables shook Wednesday noon in Canyon and over the Panhandle as a result of a miniature earthquake in the area. Weathermen at the U. S. Weather bureau in Amarillo reported the quake as "a very slight tremor." They believe it originated near Hereford and traveled as far north as Borger and south to Lubbock.

Mrs. James P. Cornette, wife of the W. T. president, said her family was in the breakfast nook when the tremor occurred. She said she thought it was an explosion at first.

Because of the rarity of quakes in the Panhandle, R. H. Reinhart, geology instructor at The Prairie for additional information on the Wednesday tremor and earthquakes in general.

Mr. Reinhart said: "I am unacquainted with the reason for tremors in the Panhandle. The first knowledge necessary would be official confirmation of the center of the movement. Earth movements can be caused by volcanic movement, or by crustal movements below the continents or the ocean.

"There is little need for fear of damage from an earthquake in this area. Wind and water are usually far more frequent and destructive.

"Sensitive modern instruments distributed widely over most continents show that the outer part of Earth trembles almost constantly. Most of these tremors are not perceptible but are recorded instrumentally. To the scientist the value of earthquakes lies in the amount of information it imparts concerning the interior of the Earth.

"The more immediate interest, however, is to the layman who wishes to know how a tremor will affect his own daily affairs. The Panhandle has been having tremors for many years but none have been of disaster proportions as is relatively common around the Pacific Ocean.

"It is likely that this last tremor was caused in the same manner that the major number of movements occur, that is, from a sudden yielding to stress near the outer surface of the Earth which results in a minor crustal movement. The areas of movement usually center along a weak spot in the Earth's crust which is called a fault. It is along this fault line that the most intense movements take place and the shocks radiate out from this point like waves.

"A peculiar point about earthquakes is that the stronger brick homes are more likely to be affected than a less sturdily built wooden home. The reason for this is that the brick absorbs the earth shock but does not "roll with the wave." On the other hand the home built of wood apparently has a slight amount of "give" and does not absorb the complete shock."

Bernard Baruch, industrialist: "Either we succeed in governing ourselves, or, if we fail, we invite others to shackle us in ruthless subjection."

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat THE POWERHOUSE OF IDEAS

WITHIN A YEAR OF OUR NATION'S FOUNDING, THE U.S. PATENT OFFICE WAS ESTABLISHED—ON THE CONCEPT THAT THE COUNTRY WOULD PROFIT BY PROTECTING THE RIGHT OF INDIVIDUALS TO PROFIT BY THEIR IDEAS AND INVENTIONS.

—SINCE THEN, MORE THAN 2,500,000 PATENTS HAVE BEEN GRANTED.

THE CONCEPT ON WHICH THE PATENT LAW WAS BASED HAS PROVEN AN INCENTIVE, NOT ONLY TO CREATIVENESS BUT TO THE INVESTMENT OF THE PEOPLE'S SAVINGS IN THE PRODUCTIVE FACILITIES THAT STRENGTHEN OUR DEMOCRACY IN PEACE AND WAR.

AS OUR COUNTRY'S FOUNDERS FORESAW, THE NATION HAS RICHLY PROFITED THROUGH THE RIGHT OF THE INDIVIDUAL TO HIS JUST REWARDS.

I have been a newspaperman all my life. I used to think I knew what news was but now I'm sure I don't.

Did you notice, day after day, during that girl Channel swimmer's practice, the papers ran columns and columns — and then she didn't swim the Channel. And did you notice the thousands of words about the young woman tennis player who plays — tennis, that is — in lacetrained pants — and she can't play tennis especially well, either?

But when Edna Vincent Millay, author of some of the most beautiful lyrics in the English language, died, she rated two paragraphs in the big dailies.

In San Antonio recently, a banner across the front of the Municipal Auditorium advertised, of all things, a cat show! Must have been considerable interest, too, for the judge came all the way from Buffalo, N. Y.

"Hobson's choice." Everybody uses the expression, which is said to have originated from the circumstances that there was a livery stable owner named Hobson. When a man wanted to hire a horse, no matter how many animals were in the stable, he had to take the one in the stall nearest the door. Hence, "Hobson's choice" — which of course really is no choice at all.

And now will some brother kindly rise in the audience and tell us how

"I got the story on 50,000 Miles-No Wear and changed to New Conoco Super Motor Oil"

says W. R. Abel Traveling Salesman El Paso, Texas

"I travel 40,000 miles a year," says Mr. Abel. "Since I've changed to new Conoco Super I never have to add a quart between drains, and I've had no engine trouble."

"50,000 Miles-No Wear!" Proved Here:

After a punishing 50,000-mile road test, with proper drains and regular care, engines lubricated with new Conoco Super Motor Oil showed no wear of any consequence; in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts. AND gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000!

SHOP FOREMAN

"I have 80,000 miles on my Chevrolet, using Conoco Super," says Nick Motzner, Shop Foreman, Twin Falls, Idaho. "The motor has never been torn down, oil consumption is at a minimum, and gasoline mileage averaged 23 miles to the gallon."

TAXI OPERATOR

"I've had a decided decrease in maintenance costs and gasoline consumption since changing to Conoco Super," reports Goddard Langlinas, Taxi Fleet Operator, Lafayette, La. "I only wish all my cabs had been broken in with Conoco Super."

Tips for Canning in Pressure Saucepan Given by Council

Here are the latest recommendations on using your pressure saucepan for canning vegetables. These come from the foods preservation committee of the Texas State Nutrition Council, which say the "cooling time" is an important part of canning in a pressure saucepan. Prepare your vegetables as you would for canning in a regular pressure canner, use a rack to keep the pint jars off the bottom of the saucepan. If you are canning 4 pints of vegetables, have one quart of boiling water in the saucepan; if 3 pint jars, then have 1 1/2 quarts of boiling water.

Allow steam to escape briskly from the vent for at least one minute, then close the vent and allow the pressure to increase to 10 pounds. Count processing time exactly from the moment 10 pounds pressure is reached.

Now—here comes the important feature to remember: cool the pressure saucepan before opening—there is a specified cooling time for each vegetable, 30 minutes for asparagus, sliced beets and sliced carrots, 35 minutes for wax beans, peas, spinach and broccoli, and 40 minutes for lima beans. At the end of the heating and cooling period, remove the jars immediately.

Remember, if you are using your pressure saucepan at home to can several pints of vegetables from your garden each day, follow the latest recommendations. Get the required amount of boiling water in the pressure saucepan, count processing time from the moment the gauge reaches 10 pounds pressure, allow the pressure saucepan to cool before opening, and remove the jars immediately. Keep them out of drafts, and give each jar enough room for air to get to all sides.

For the time tables on these vegetables, check with local home demonstration office.

J. L. Russell Has Relinquished His Rotary Post Parker

W. O. (Bud) Parker became president of the Canyon Rotary Club Tuesday as J. L. Russell closed his year's work at that post.

Mr. Russell closed his year's work with a review of the past year and the accomplishments which he had noted during the year.

He highly complimented the membership in their attendance and in the part which they had taken to improve Rotary locally. "I have had the finest co-operation during the past year, and am gratefully thankful to all of you for your work," stated Dr. Russell.

The strong points of the Canyon Rotary Club are:

Varied ability of the members, who are willing to use their talents for the improvement of the club.

The size of the club: The club is not too large to induce good fellowship among the members; and not so small that the members feel embarrassed in their membership. The club is just the right size.

The programs are splendid, and indicate the varied talents of the members.

There are two weaknesses, according to the retiring president — low attendance and lack of accomplishments.

Mr. Russell urged that during the coming year every member make an effort to be present at every meeting, and that the club adopt a policy of accomplishment.

Mr. Parker took the gavel and announced that Dr. J. B. Roberts would be program chairman for the coming year, to succeed J. W. Shook. Like the retiring president, Parker called upon the members for an aggressive program during the coming year.

Visitors were Rev. Uel D. Crosby of Lubbock; Bascom Hayes of Austin; Ernest Osgood of Mexico, Mo.; Thurman Richardson of Panhandle; Dr. Gaylord R. Chase, L. E. Moyer, J. J. Sanders, Arthur Osgood, W. C. O. Harris, all of Amarillo.

Mrs. Lee Foster and Sally, Mrs. W. E. Miller and Janis, Mrs. J. D. Barker and Marcia Nan, Rev. and Mrs. T. Winston Wilbanks and family left Monday morning to attend the Church Workers Institute of the Presbyterian Church of Texas at Buffalo Gap. Mrs. Foster is treasurer of the State organization. Rev. Wilbanks is Dean of the Institute this year.

Mrs. Pearl Umphreys of Houston spent three days last week with her mother, Mrs. Jessie Reid, and her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hicks.

MORE ABOUT LOBBYING:

There is at the present time a scare campaign going on all over the entire United States by small organizations that have set themselves up to do lobbying work in Washington. They are using scare tactics to try to collect donations from the taxpayers. The taxpayers are already overburdened and should not contribute to these organizations. The tactics used by these organizations are certainly unorthodox from an honest man's point of view. A typical examination of their operations is that they will dig through the bills that have been introduced in Congress and find several with language that can be used to scare the people into making donations for fear that they might be losing some of their rights. Do not be misled by this scare literature that is coming to you from these organizations. The bills that they are referring to in many instances are bills that do not have one chance in ten million to even pass out of the committee, to say nothing of the entire Congress. If language in a bill that is introduced is ambiguous or not understandable, it is usually corrected by the committee considering the bill. It is true that sometimes bills get through the committees without all of this language being taken out. However, when these bills reach the floor of the House, you can be assured that there will be many congressmen out of the 435 who will call this to the attention of the House, and these matters are usually corrected. Some of these organizations by these tactics are able to collect thousands upon thousands of dollars each year to maintain lavish hotel rooms and offices in Washington. The best way to put a stop to these questionable activities is for the people to stop subscribing to them. When you receive literature telling you that unless you donate to some fancy named organization you are liable to lose all of your rights, please write me and give me the name of the organization and send me the literature. I will be glad to investigate the activities of the organization here and to write you full particulars about their activities. Don't spend your money foolishly so that a few people can live off the fat of the land under the guise of giving you some protection. Some of these organizations use literature that is definitely misleading. They have taken great pains to word this literature so that they will not be criminally liable but will at the same time mislead you as to what is actually going on.

UNCOVERING IMPOSITIONS ON THE TAXPAYERS:

This Congress has done a great work in uncovering many impositions on the taxpayers. Some of these investigations have already been thoroughly publicized. There are many others that are building up facts at the present time and stopping questionable practices on the part of many people preying upon the public treasury. A subcommittee of the Committee on Veterans' Affairs, headed by Congressman Olin Teague of Bryan, Texas, is doing an admirable job in ferreting out such vicious practices under the GI Bill of Rights. When this report is finally completed, it will astound the people to learn of the many questionable, if not fraudulent, practices that have been used to collect money from the taxpayers' pockets. These practices are a definite injustice to the honest and sincere veterans who are intended to be benefited by the GI Bill. Nothing to me could be lower than for some individual or organization to use the veterans' benefits laws to line their own pockets. The veterans organizations are much disturbed about these vicious practices and are doing something about it. The benefits under the GI Bill could have been extended to Korean veterans several months ago had it not been for the uncovering of the many discrepancies in the use of these funds. I was astonished to find that the subcommittee is uncovering evidence that involves many people who appear to be upstanding and honest citizens. I will try to give more detail on this subject as soon as it is available.

DEFENSE PRODUCTION ACT:

Time draws near for some action to be taken on the question of extending the powers under the Defense Production Act. Many members of Congress feel that the powers granted under the Defense Production Act of 1950 have been abused, and these members will vote for an enlargement of controls in many instances will not vote for the extension of the present controls. It has always been my position that if controls are needed, they should be completely across the board and should be used only for the shortest possible time. We are all against inflation and know that it must be stopped. However, controlling one business and turning another loose is not going to stop inflation. The only remedy for inflation is more production, that is, a more equal balance between the goods available and the money in circulation. The dire necessity for goods and materials to be used in the defense program will create a definite shortage on the civilian front unless we meet the challenge and produce enough to meet both the defense needs and the civilian needs. This cannot be done unless the American people are willing to meet the challenge and do the producing. I say that America will do it. Our choice today lies between more production or economic controls. To me there is only one answer, and that is more production. This will not only protect the little people, but it will stop any trend toward a regimented economy.

LOU LESTER CLUB HONORS BETTYE JANE PHILLIPS

The Lou Lester Club met in the home of Mrs. Emma Coleman with Mrs. Lucy Brown and Mrs. Berl Mayfield as hostesses. After the business meeting, Mrs. Nina White, representing the Club, presented Miss Bettye Phillips, bride-elect of Bob Moody, a gift in her chosen china.

After an informal program, refreshments were served from a crystal appointed table. The bride's colors of green, white and blue were used in the decorations. Mrs. Coleman presented each guest a wrist corsage. A salad plate, sandwiches and punch were served with Mrs. Mayfield presiding at the punch bowl and with Mrs. Brown serving the salad.

Those present were Miss Phillips and her mother, Mrs. Olga Phillips, Mesdames Nina White, Mattie Gerald, Margaret Cole, Ethel Campfield, Eldegerte Wirt, Lucy Brown, Berl Mayfield, Emma Coleman, Katherine Foster, Misses Vera Crawford, Beryl Hixson, Lou Ella Patterson and Liston Coleman.

MRS. ED BOURN IS HOSTESS TO WESTSIDE H. D. CLUB

The Westside Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. E. W. Bourn on Tuesday, June 12. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. E. T. Zachry.

The program on "Build a Woman's Magazine" was presented by Mesdames Ray Metcalf, Lewis Tuck, and R. C. Nicholl.

The hostess, assisted by her daughter Doris, served ice cream and cake to guests Mrs. Maggie Burrus, Mrs. Earl Craig, Mrs. Herschel Jennings and Betty Burrus and to 12 members.

The Club decided not to hold meetings in July.

QUITE A FEW

A revivalist said to his congregation:

"There is a man among us who is flirting with another man's wife. Unless he puts $5 in the collection box, his name will be read from the pulpit."

When the collection box came in there were six $5 bills in it, and one for $2 with a note pinned to it, saying:

"This is all the cash I have, but will send the other $3 on Wednesday."

STICKY

Little Jennifer had been left in charge of her baby brother while her mother was elsewhere. Presently there was a shout:

"Mummy," she cried, "do come and speak to baby. He's sitting on the flypaper, and there's a whole lot of flies waiting to get on."

ACCOMMODATING

An elderly lady happened to have a little boy seated beside her in a church pew. As the collection plate was being passed, the boy noticed her fumbling in her purse. "Here," he finally whispered, "you take my dime, I can hide under the seat."

Farm output rise is held essential to curb inflation.

NOVEL IDEA NETS THIEF

Delaware, Ohio. — Harry Van Sickle, farmer, couldn't catch up with the one who was stealing motor fuel from the gasoline pump on his farm. He put some water in the pump one night and, the next morning, he saw a car stalled down the road — with water in the gasoline tank. He notified the sheriff and the culprit — a 19-year-old boy — confessed.

CAR CRASH IN GARAGE

Los Angeles, Cal. — Chester Coleman parked his new car in his garage, thinking it would be safe. But a car, belonging to Miss Leona Free, collided with another automobile, bounded over a curb, whizzed through a wire fence, sped through 150 feet of back yard, tore down a child's swing and rammed through the wall of Coleman's garage — leaving a big spot caved in his car.

UNLUCKY FIND

Newport News, Va. — While out driving, Army Sergeant Mark Sapp saw a wallet in the road, stopped, picked it up and drove on. Examining it, he found it empty and threw it out of the car window. A motorist behind him, becoming suspicious, called police, who, after listening to the wallet story, began nosing around. As a result, they found the car improperly equipped; a half-gallon of "corn" whiskey in the car, and Sapp had no registration card. Taken to court, he paid a $50 fine.

BURIED 26 YEARS; RING FOUND

Charlesville, Md. — While helping to pick some corn, some 26 years ago, Mrs. Spencer E. Stup lost her wedding ring, which she had worn since 1908. Periodically, until she died several years ago, Mrs. Stup and her husband went out to the field to see if they could find the ring. Recently, Mr. Stup, while walking through the field, noticed something shiny on the ground — it was the ring.

FEE TO SEE QUADS

Pontiac, Mich. — Mrs. Anna Rosebush, mother of the Rosebush quads — two boys and two girls — which were born last January, explained why she was asking a quarter for a look. She said it wasn't to "cash in" on the babies, but to try to cut down on the visitors. Sometimes, she says, as many as 52 persons a day have crowded into their home to see the quads.

DOG SCARE FATAL

Norwich, Conn. — Police believe Mrs. Elizabeth Butkiewicz, 59, became so frightened by a dog that ran after her as she walked home from a movie, that she collapsed with a heart attack and died en route to a hospital.

How Bakery Dollar is Divided

Includes salesmen's pay, truck operations, advertising, etc.

Rising costs of labor involved in the manufacture and distribution of bakery products, and not higher farm prices or greater profits, are largely responsible for increases in prices of bakery products in recent years, the Senate Committee on Forestry and Agriculture reported recently. Senator Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana is chairman of the committee.

A study of operating costs and profits in the baking industry conducted by the committee revealed that baker profits after taxes in the first quarter of 1951 averaged 3.4%. On a pound loaf of bread, this would be approximately one half cent. The profit was the smallest reported in the past five years.

"Today a pound of bakery products reflects 1.9 cents higher costs for ingredients and 2.5 cents higher costs for manufacturing labor and distribution than in 1945," the reported. The profit ratio to total sales since 1946—three to five per cent.

"Farm products now make up a smaller proportion of the retail cost of bakery products than at any time since the end of World War II. Distribution costs have increased sharply in recent years. Packaging materials costs increased more than one-third."

Bakers are taking a steadily increasing total supply of American farm products, according to the American Bakers Association. Latest figures show that bakers are purchasing annually nearly 13 billion pounds of flour which requires 300 million bushels of wheat; three hundred million pounds of eggs, nearly 300 million pounds of milk, more than a billion pounds of shortenings, two and a half billion pounds of sugar, and millions of pounds of fruit, berries and other farm products.

NOTICE

NOTICE TO ALL PERSONS OWNING TAXABLE PROPERTY, BOTH REAL AND PERSONAL, WITHIN THE CITY OF CANYON, TEXAS.

In line with recommendations of the bonding companies, the property valuations and tax rate for the City of Canyon have been changed. A lower interest rate on the recent bond issue is a result of this change.

Property valuations have been increased from the 25% valuation that prevailed last year to a 40% valuation for the year 1951. The tax rate is now One Dollar ($1.00) on each One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) of property valuation as compared with a tax rate of One Dollar and Fifty cents ($1.50) for the past year.

In keeping up with the increasing costs of materials and labor and with the rapid growth of the City, it is necessary to increase taxes for the year 1951 by approximately Six and one-half percent (6½%). The above changes in the property valuations and tax rate will give this increase.

Radcliff Supply Co. Popular Concern

There is no business concern in the Panhandle that stands higher in the eyes of its customers than Radcliff Supply Co. with stores at 501 E. 3rd Avenue in Amarillo and 112 E. Brown in Pampa, because Fred L. Radcliff has always made it a policy to go out of his way to accommodate the public in every way possible as well as offering quality merchandise at reasonable prices.

At Radcliff Supply Co. you will find a complete line of Pumping Equipment, Packing and Hose, V-Belts and Flat Belts, Sheaves, Pulleys, all types of Fire Fighting Equipment. They have a large stock on hand and agricultural tools.

Fred Radcliff also pointed out that their stock of rubber footwear and clothing is now complete but future shipments are doubtful and that you should buy your needs now. This also applies to many other articles which are handled by Radcliff Supply Co., so it would be a good idea the very next time that you are in Amarillo or Pampa to drop in and see what they have that you need. You will find they will extend you every possible friendly courtesy, and you will, no doubt, find many things that you can use.

Edward Everts Builders of Ability

As a substantial contributor to the progress of the Panhandle, Edward Evert, general contractor, has established a well-deserved reputation for dependability and efficiency in all types of construction work.

For those interested in commercial, industrial or residential building, the Evert organization of 3410 Tyler in Amarillo will be found to be top ranking. Through the diligent adherence to those factors requisite to the successful operation of a construction business, Mr. Evert has established his concern as virtual headquarters for matters pertaining to building. By careful organization he has integrated the efforts of carpenters, and the other construction crews and the various sub-contracting groups to form a smooth functioning building operation from the architect's plans to the completed project.

Those who have enjoyed his above-board methods and valuable services recognize him for his friendly attitude. Whether the contract is established on a cost-plus or fixed-fee basis the client may always be assured of the highest quality work at the lowest possible price consistent with quality. It has always been the policy of Mr. Evert to provide his prospective builders with friendly guidance on the complicated matters peculiar to this business. Certainly no other business service is more directly related to the favorable development of this district and it is only fitting that an aggressive citizen such as Edward Everts should be among the more prominent men of his profession. Those of our readers who are contemplating a construction program can do no better than refer their problem to Edward Everts, contractor at 3410 Tyler in Amarillo.

Be Sane on the Fourth of July Is Advice Given

Americans pay dearly for their independence!

In actual conflict on the fields of battle, it cost 4,044 lives to buy it in the Revolution; about 529,000 lives, including the Korean war dead, to preserve it—and 793 lives to celebrate it last July 4th alone! Texas contributed to the bloody toll to the tune of 40 traffic victims, excluding scores of other non-traffic violent deaths.

That ironic fact underlines the Texas Department of Public Safety's campaign to reduce accidents, especially on Texas highways, this Fourth—the day which commemorates our victorious struggle for independence.

Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Public Safety Department, points out that the mid-week Fourth this year will bring only a one-day holiday for most persons, thus safety will receive a decided "assist" from the calendar.

Garrison urges every citizen to exercise the utmost caution with fireworks, boating, swimming and motoring while enjoying the holiday. "Be sane and be safe on the Fourth," he says, "and be alive on the 5th!"

Lowly Earthworm Actually Some Sharp Character

FRANKFORT, Ky. — You don't have to be too close an observer to know that, as far as the earthworm family is concerned, spring has been around for some time.

This might not sound too interesting unless you are a zoologist, but, in bare truth, no one but the zoologist knows what an interesting specimen Mr. Crawler really is. In fact, he is almost phenomenal.

Zoologists, who know more about the worm than anybody—except, maybe a few fishermen, are becoming more and more confused about the fellow as time goes by. For instance, there are around 1,000 classified species. Size ranges from a bare fraction of an inch to the Australian jumbo special variety that has been known to measure five feet.

Individually the little earthworm is not too important. He grows into adulthood in a period of less than six months and goes about in a century-old manner, eating dirt—or rather seeking the organic matter found in the dirt by taking it into the digestive system and seemingly just boring himself around the earth.

It is through group effort that the worms really make their contribution to civilization. Crawlers, like humans, like to gather in rich areas. In an acre of good soil there might be nearly a million earthworms. As the busy worms go about their usual procedure of taking in dirt to obtain the organic matter therein, their burrows offer the soil room to breathe and also provide drainage for rain. They might be called underground tillers of the soil for they contribute heavily to preservation of the good earth and the creation of new soil.

And just why are there so many worms? It's simple. Crawlers are hermaphrodite. Every earthworm is both a male and a female, although two worms are needed to produce an offspring.

After fertilization both worms return to their life of eating dirt and later give offsprings. One mating is believed sufficient for a worm's lifetime and is said to produce several groups of young.

In case you have never been able to decide, the earthworm does have two ends. The head is the slim, tapered end and the tail is, of course, the other end.

Although he is equipped with a special reproductive ability, you can kill Mr. Crawler by cutting him into a full grown worm is made up of little rings or segments, from 100 to 150 in number. If less than 15 rings are whacked off from the tail, the reproductive organism furnishes a new tail and the worm goes about his business. If part of the head is clipped, the reproductive organism still functions, but the part produced is always a tail and the worm eventually dies from starvation, having no way to feed. Whack more than 15 rings from either end and Mr. Crawler is definitely a gone gosling, for part of the reproductive system is lost.

The sometimes quoted belief that it "rains" the worms found on the ground after showers is an untruth. The rain swells the earth and cuts off the oxygen supply and the earthworms simply come up for air. Which is probably what he would like very much to do when he finds himself attached to some angler's hook and several feet under water.

Hollywood's Favorite Chimp Victim of Compound Fire

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. — One of Hollywood's engaging comics, and consistent scene stealer, Tamba, a five year old performing chimpanzee, is dead.

A veteran of scores of movies and television shows, Tamba performed in many pictures. His latest film was "Bedtime for Bonzo."

The chimp was suffocated along with three other apes and a baby kangaroo when fire broke out in the chimp house of the World Jungle Compound, filling the cages with smoke.

Tamba, alias Bonzo, Pierre, Jo Jo and Rollo, understood more than 1,000 words and 500 commands. His salary was $500 a week.

He recently double crossed his press agent by flunking an intelligence test, but psychologists credited him with the intelligence of a three year old child.

Speaker Rayburn Surpasses Record Set by Henry Clay

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Sam Rayburn of Texas has served the longest tenure as speaker of the house, surpassing the record of Henry Clay.

Rayburn assumed the post on Sept. 16, 1940, filling a vacancy created by the death of William B. Bankhead of Alabama. His service was interrupted during the Republican controlled 80th congress in 1947-48.

Congressional library statisticians have figured that Clay served a total of 3,056½ days between 1811 and 1825.

Rayburn has also exceeded the eight year record as speaker chalked up by Joseph G. (Uncle Joe) Cannon of Illinois, 1903 to 1911; and Champ Clark of Missouri, 1911 to 1919.

Sen. Tom Connally Seeks to Correct an Error in Wage-Hour

WASHINGTON. — Senator Tom Connally last week introduced a bill to correct what he called the "ridiculous interpretation" of the Wage-Hour Act by the Department of Labor.

The Connally bill would make it plain that wholesale petroleum marketers are not engaged in interstate commerce and are therefore not covered by the Wage-Hour law. Most of these marketers operate within a radius of 30 miles and within only one county.

"Investigators of the Wage and Hour Division have recently begun a campaign of harassment against these independent local businessmen," Connally told the Senate. "The investigators carry on a process of coercion and intimidation to bring about a supposed compliance with the wages-and-hours law."

But, Connally argued, the Wage-Hour Act was never intended to apply to businesses of this kind.

"Only by the wildest stretch of the imagination can they be considered to be in interstate commerce," he declared. "If they are engaged in interstate commerce, then every person in the United States is engaged in interstate commerce. I do not think the Senate is ready to accept such a concept."

The pretense upon which the Wage-Hour Division attempts to apply the law to the petroleum wholesalers, Connally explained, is that they sell to farmers and the things the farmers produce may go out of the state.

"That is a ridiculous proposition," the Texas Senator declared. "This is growing to be bureaucracy of the worst character."

Nevertheless, some petroleum marketers now find themselves facing suits or back pay amounting in some cases to as much as $9,000.

"It is significant," Connally said, "that these suits do not come from the employees to whom the back pay is allegedly due. They come, instead, from the wage-hour investigators. The employees themselves do not want to sue. In many instances, they are getting a monthly salary in excess of the requirements of the act."

Connally noted that the Wage-Hour Division has a heavy backlog of complaints but that only one out of four of its investigations is made as the result of a complaint.

"The Division ought to devote itself to getting rid of this backlog," he suggested, "instead of snooping around people who are not covered by the law and who are not complaining."
